“But blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear.” (Mt. 13:16)

In my first call, I had the blessing of a wise elder teaching me a very important lesson about looking a person in the eyes as you shake their hand with a firm grip in greeting them in coming and in leaving. This elder said that if you do not look a person in the eyes as you greet them, it appears you are looking past them and they are not important. This was wonderful advice, and I am grateful that he shared it with me. Have you ever paid attention to how often you truly look into someone's eyes as they speak? Have you ever noticed the many expressions people share by looking at their eyes? It is interesting that although wearing face masks in public buildings is uncomfortable, it makes us look at the eyes of the person speaking to us rather than indifferently listening to them while looking at something else. God gave us both eyes to see, and ears to hear.

I have had some request that I take off my facemask while preaching. I will not do this for a couple of reasons. First, the microphone clearly picks up what I am saying while preaching. If you have difficulty understanding or hearing for any reason while in public worship, we have 8 wireless assisted listening devices that are connected directly to the sound system. Please request one or pick one up in the Narthex. Secondly, I believe in leading by example. If the expectation is that everyone in worship will wear a facemask as a safety measure, then that includes me. Perhaps my wearing a facemask helps those who are listening pay more attention to the expression in my eyes. I have noticed when a check-out clerk is smiling behind their mask. I have also seen a look of anger or frustration when something does not go as expected. It may be a little thing, but I never noticed it before. Maybe I was too busy thinking about my needs to pay attention to the person who was serving me and look them in the eye. By looking the check-out person in the eye, I am honoring their life and their worth. I am truly “seeing” them. Being forced to wear a facemask has made me recognize how easy it is to ignore others and look ahead to something I am more interested in rather than being present with them. Without realizing it, I was sinning against them. Luther defined sin as “turning in” on oneself (incurvatus in se), or in other words making your needs, wants, and desires more important than God or anyone else.

During Lent last year, I shared a sermon about how we can turn the illness of our sin into wellness. Illness begins with “I” and wellness begins with “We”. The way to turn illness into wellness is by removing the “I” and replacing it with “We”. As “we” move forward with difficult decisions for the church regarding best practices for public worship and keeping everyone safe, consider not only what you believe but what is appropriate for the safety of all. Our faith invites us to “see” our neighbor and their needs rather than just our own. The wearing of face masks and other personal preferences and beliefs will only become a divisive issue in the church if we allow the illness of “I” to become more important than “We”.

I have preached from the beginning of my time here, and will continue preaching that faith is simple. Love God; love your neighbor as yourself. It is simple, it is not always easy. Beloved of God, keep your eyes and your mind on Christ Jesus our Lord and the power of love. Live as Jesus lived, and love as Jesus loved and the illness of our sin will be transformed into wellness.

In Christ,
Pastor Jeff

SEPTEMBER, 2020 COUNCIL MINUTES. . .

Pastor's report: Pastor Jeff reported that he has had "Zoom" meetings with Caloosa Conference, East Naples Ministerial group, personal spiritual direction meetings, and Altar Guild members. He has also had AV training with the new equipment and weekly staff meetings. Pastor has been calling and praying with members that have been hospitalized. He is counseling by phone or internet and discussing the Sunday worship services seen on the internet. He is in the process of re-connecting with shut-ins by phone and hopes to visit in person in the near future. Pastor is sending weekly readings in advance of worship, videotaping weekly greeters for Sunday worship, and offering communion during our internet worship service.

Treasurer's Report: Bob Tidmore reported that the giving is $9000 above budget and spending is $26,000 under budget.

Committee reports:

Due to the Corona Virus and inactivity of the church, the following Council members gave a report:

Endowment - Pete Peterson reported that the balance in our Ameritrade account as of August 31, 2020 is $134,203.

Parish Relations – Barb Keller reported that the CDC regulations only allow 25% attendance when reopening the church for public worship. Members will be ushered in and out, and seated six feet apart unless they are a family.

Education – Bonny Dery reported that Mike Boyd is working with the county to obtain the proper permits to change the church sign.

Property – Keith Scamehorn suggested we use a thermometer as members enter the church. This was voted down due to the fact that it is unrealistic because of the number of people entering the church at the same time. Pastor Jeff reported that the Memorial Garden has been cleaned and will be maintained by our volunteers. G & C Landscaping has been hired for trimming and maintaining the lawn and bushes. A piece of fascia has been replaced in the front of the building. Fire alarms have been redone, but there is a beam inside the sanctuary that may require fixing, but due to the $3000 cost, it is still being discussed. The sound system and AV system are both in and working well. The highspeed internet has been installed and has really made a difference in our online work. The burglar alarm has been serviced and repaired.

Old Business:

Council members reviewed and revised the regulations on reopening the church. Council approved reopening the church for public worship on Sunday, September 20, 2020.

New Business:

Pastor Jeff discussed the ongoing communication (e-mails, website, You Tube and Facebook) to offer the weekly worship service and keep the congregation informed. He is also sending out weekly readings and asking for feedback in order to keep the congregation involved.

The administrative secretaries submitted a report informing Council members what has developed in the office during July and August. This report included the installation of new equipment, software and programming.

Respectfully submitted,
Pat Cooper

Edwin Michel received his victory in the Lord on Monday, August 17, 2020 at his northern home in Lyndonville, NY with family.

HELPING OUR NEIGHBORS. . .

To our Contributing Churches & Synagogues:

We pray that you and your families are remaining healthy and safe during this difficult time.

2020 will be the 26th year of the UNDY SUNDAY campaign to provide an ample supply of underwear, socks and miscellaneous clothing & school supplies for the many needy elementary and pre-school children within Collier County.

With the outreach involving 33 religious interfaith churches and synagogues, Catholic Charities' volunteers received an abundance of undergarments and socks from the church donations in 2019, which were segregated, sorted, labeled and packaged for delivery to 37 selected Elementary & Charter schools, plus six Social Service organizations who assist needy women and children in our community.

In addition, the 2019 campaign was blessed with receiving an overwhelming number of socks again this year, allowing us to donate more than a thousand pairs to the "Laces of Love" Foundation to supplement their "Shoes for Needy Kids Program".

All monetary donations received will be used to support other children activities & programs at Catholic Charities of Collier County, throughout the year.

Historically, UNDY SUNDAY has occurred in August. For 2020 and beyond, we would like to move the campaign to the last two weekends in October, the 18th and 25th. Due to Covid 19, we will switch to virtual for 2020 only—all contributions will be via Amazon or via financial contributions which will be used to purchase items for delivery to schools. The Undy Sunday team has a Charity Wish List where you can find our current socks and undies needs: <https://catholiccharitiesdove.org/undysunday2020/>

God Bless everyone involved in this special mission.
